In our opinion, the attached public benefit simplified financial statements of the public-benefit organisation give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Foundation as at 31 December 2023 and its financial performance for the year then ended in accordance with the Hungarian Act C of 2000 on Accounting as well as the provisions of government decree no. 479/2016. (XII. 28.) on the specific reporting and accounting obligations of organisations that qualify as specific other entities under the Accounting Act.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Hungarian National Standards on Auditing and the effective Hungarian laws and other regulations on audits. Our responsibilities under these standards are further described in the “The auditor’s responsibilities for the audit of the public benefit simplified financial statements of a public-benefit organisation” section of our report.

We are independent of the Company in compliance with the relevant effective Hungarian regulations and the “Rules of conduct (ethical rules) of the auditor profession and the disciplinary process” of the Chamber of Hungarian Auditors and, in respect of matters not regulated therein, the Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (the IESBA Code), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the same ethical requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other information: Public benefit report

Other information comprise the public benefit report of Bátor Tábor Foundation for 2023. The management is responsible for the preparation of the public benefit report in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Accounting Act and other regulations. Our opinion on the simplified public benefit financial statements provided in the section of our independent auditor's report entitled “Opinion” does not apply to the public benefit report.

Our responsibility in connection with our audit of the public benefit simplified financial statements of the public benefit organisation is to read the public benefit report and, in doing so, conclude whether it is materially inconsistent with the public benefit simplified financial statements of the public benefit organisation or our knowledge obtained during the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

Furthermore, in accordance with the Accounting Act, our responsibilities also include assessing whether the public benefit report was prepared in accordance with the relevant provisions of the Accounting Act and other regulations, and to express an opinion on the above and as to whether the public benefit report is consistent with the public benefit simplified financial statements of the public benefit organisation.

In our opinion, the public benefit report of the Foundation for FY 2023 corresponds in every material respect to the public benefit simplified financial statements of the Foundation for FY 2023 and the relevant provisions of the Accounting Act. As the Foundation is not subject to additional requirements under any other regulation in connection with the public benefit report, we have not formulated an opinion on this matter.

In addition to the above, based on the information obtained about the Foundation and its environment, we must report on whether we have become aware of any material misstatements in the public benefit report and, if so, on the nature of such material misstatements. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the management and those charged with governance for the public benefit simplified financial statements of the public-benefit organisation

Management is responsible for the preparation of the public benefit simplified financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with the Accounting Act, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of public benefit simplified financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the public benefit simplified financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to the going concern principle, and preparing the public benefit simplified financial statements using the going concern basis of accounting. Management must apply the going concern principle, unless the use of this principle is precluded by any provision, or if any fact or circumstance prevails, which precludes the Company to continue as a going concern.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

The auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the public benefit simplified financial statements of the public benefit organisation

Our objectives during the audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the simplified financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue, on the basis of the above, an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Hungarian National Standards on Auditing and the effective Hungarian laws and other regulations on audits will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error, and they are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these simplified financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Hungarian National Standards on Auditing and the effective Hungarian laws and other regulations on audits, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit.

We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the simplified financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's preparation of the simplified financial statements in accordance with the going concern principle and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in the auditor's report to the related disclosures in the simplified financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify the opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the simplified financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the simplified financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in the Company's internal control that we identify during the audit.
